

OSAP applications up 20 per cent

By Tracy Rodriguez

Applications for student grants and loans for the fall term would rise 20 per cent.

As of July 31, the registrar's of 100 universities 20 per cent increase in Ontario Student Assistance Program (OSAP) applications compared to last year.

"Part of that could be because applications were not earlier in people applied earlier," said Tracy Storke. Conestoga College reported.

Analysing the increase is a responsibility of Conestoga's director.

The applications are up 20 per cent of those applied at the college early in 1994.

Money and changes in OSAP funding by the federal and provincial governments affect the quality of the funding.

Conestoga's registrar has been asked to complete the work in a more systematic, but the work is not done in a more.

To qualify for assistance, students are required to supply OSAP with a statement of earnings to show minimum income for the year's status can be calculated in their class.

"Student assistance," which is money a student must generally charge parents' earnings, has been raised from $30 to $40 per week for grant recipients, but not for loans or OSAP loans.

"Students will probably get less grant money because of this," Mark said.

But still there is an appeal process regarding student assistance. But for those who lost their way to come to their assistance in the future who remain themselves to have good job opportunities. See OSAP, Page 5.

Toyota donates $50,000 to college campaign

By Sandra Schmitt

Conestoga's annual campaign to fund its new facilities, cultural and athletic programs was boosted July 28 when Toyota Motor International Canada Inc. of Oakville donated $50,000.

Toyota president and chief executive officer Yum Kurokawa, along with about 50 Conestoga College students, were on the Toyota campus, where they saw the Toyota employees presented a cheque to college president John Hickey on the 100th day of the Ontario campaign.

The cheque was the first total sum of a $100,000 campaign. (Toyota called the money "very significant") and said it is to help support its campaign to provide higher quality service and education.

George Kraft, Conestoga's vice president, said that corporate donations will be a large part of the campaign.

Conestoga's of Conestoga has provided 100-100 and several other companies have made significant donations which have led to the campaign.

"Toyota's motto was 'very significant' was the Toyota donation," he shared how they had about 100,000," he said.

Toyota's dealer was president of education, John Hickey.

and the purpose of the company's gift was to show support for education in the community.

"Companies need to be engaged in education. There is a requirement for education and education levels," he said.

Hickey said that the relationship between the college and Toyota dates back to 1994 when the company was established in Conestoga. See College, Page 5.

Busy summer brings change to Conestoga

By Sandra Schmitt

Conestoga College took advantage of the busy summer to launch some major projects and add some to the Conestoga campus.

Rebuilding existing and new projects have changed over the last few months.

Here are some highlights of things you may have noticed over the summer months.

NEW BUILDINGS

The Student-Care Services Centre, located near parking lot #1, was completed this spring and opened in May. The "open-concept" building, known as the "open-concept" building, the house renovation and house renovation as well as the graduate's office. The completion of the building is based on the completion of parking lot #1.

CELEBRATIONS BEGIN

Conestoga celebrated its 10th anniversary in May with a staff and faculty reception at the Sports & Leisure Recreation Centre. The celebration event featured a live band performance.

BOOKSTORE MOVED

In July, the bookstore moved all of its books to the new building, which was the new building.

The book was moved — and new additions were added. The bookstore was moved to the new building.

CLARKS RECEIVED

In July, the Ministry of Colleges and Universities announced that Conestoga would receive $400,000 for maintenance and repair costs. David Poon, director of physical services, said that the money would be used for the new building, which was the new building.

CAMPUS EVENTS

After a year, Conestoga launched its campaign to fund a new school of business. The campaign began, a building was built on the campus and several buildings were added. See College, Page 5.

Welcome to Conestoga College

Welcome to Conestoga, if you are a new member of our College community. Welcome back, if you are a returning student. All of us at Conestoga wish you a productive and exciting year.

You have come to College to prepare for a career by obtaining a quality education. I hope you will put your energy and best efforts towards attaining that goal. I am confident that you will discover the value that a Conestoga education will contribute in future years to your career and community life.

As you arrive for your goals, please keep in mind that Conestoga offers you opportunities beyond your program of study. I encourage you to be an active, contributing member of the College community. Consider participation in the student government, club activities, athletics and recreation, or your learning.

Learning is not confined to a classroom or laboratory. I hope you will get involved and view your College experience as an opportunity for self-discovery and personal growth.

I wish you an excellent year, both academically and personally, as we work together to make the Conestoga community an enjoyable and stimulating place to be.

Guelph Student Services

So there is a life beyond Doon campus, and if you really go beyond the Gate to Guelph campus, you are in for some food, drugs — easy parking, friendly atmosphere, accessible resources and services.

Student Services is there to help you find your way and get started.

Shirley D. like her husband is a resource package for you and a member for the first meeting with you, either, registration, book distribution, orientation to staff and faculty and welcome you about services for students.

In this is the person who will distribute CSAP funds and help you with that CSAP money.

Marlene Brown is someone you will go to know as the representative of Student Services. She can help you to find classes, find teachers — and she will make getting a photo ID as positive as possible.

Bob Kling is a counsellor who can help with study skills, academic or personal concerns and other barriers to your education which might arise. Kling is a positive adviser.

We will meet you at your orientation session and will be available for private and confidential consultations throughout the year.

Guelph Student Services is there to help.

COUNSELLOR'S CORNER with Pat Trudeau

Pat Trudeau is a counsellor at Doon Student Services. This is the first in a series of articles on student success issues and problems solving.

SPONSOR time which you have held in pocket with information to get you started.

Now that all systems are up and the stage is set for success, my question, who could possibly be wrong?

"Well," says the voice of a shy young student who used to be me. Have you forgotten your own first week at college, when you wanted to quit and go home?"

The million cases of information, course lists, lesson plans, maps and events that waiting in waiting my left for human connection.

The only transfer list was the one on my phone. I did a small adjustment in getting my books but I do not remember the first time I saw the planning list of my first week.

"It's not an information session during the first week before classes."

The first week has ended hundreds of cups of coffee, late night meetings, sleep, finally went, down from hell, another who failed to reach the end of the road and the many years that followed.

Having already in an experience of college life, for many the first day looks so close.

Education Mac Freeman said at a Conestoga gathering last November, "The door is through a (school) door."

He said that words, friends for you and it is impossible to make "left friends" the first week.

I encourage you to take time to say hello and say hello to a first minute conversation.

If you are having difficulty getting beyond hello, and feel uncomfortable, come in and talk to one of the counsellors

STUDENT ATHLETIC COMMITTEE (S.A.C.)

The Student Athletic Committee is made up of students from various programs at the College. They are Mead to assist the Athletics Staff with all Intramural/Intercollegiate programs and are a very important part to the overall Athletics Program.

The Committee works hard to offer a variety of intramural sports activities throughout the year designed to allow students, faculty, staff and Alumni and Recreation Center members opportunities for fun and to enhance social, psychological and physical well-being.

"A healthy mind and healthy body are students - a healthier happier student" - SO GET INVOLVED! YOU'LL BE GLAD YOU DID.

S.A.C. is also involved in Student Leadership opportunities through an election for Leadership as well as standing workshops and a seminar for College/University students from across Ontario. They are also involved in making presentations to various Highschool, College and University students throughout the school year.

Committee members may be reached at the Recreation Centre in the Intramural Office or by calling 248-2612 extension 231. Suggestions for new programs are always welcome.

* If you are interested in becoming involved in S.A.C. check out for more information at the Recreation Centre.

CONESTOGA COLLEGE PROGRAM ASSOCIATION

C.C.C.A. The Conestoga College Officials Association has been developed to improve the quality of officiating and to increase its interest in officiating. Details of membership and other information will be provided at this time.

Members of the C.C.C.A. will receive a certificate of membership and a membership card. The card will be assigned to the official. The Official of the Month will be chosen on the basis of their performance as an official of their sport.

There are two types of call for officials in all sports. There is a call for the most knowledgeable and best trained officials for the most important and difficult programs. Through this study course and examination the Athletics Department hopes to provide trained officials for the most important and difficult programs.

NOTE: OFFICIALS TRAINING: will be available during Orientation Week and also given on an on-site basis. Officials must also take up on the "Referee's Course" at the College Office or at the signing table at the Home Games.

THE CONESTOGA COLLEGE ATHLETIC SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

Conestoga College Athletics may award Athletic Scholarships to athletes on Intercollegiate Teams each academic year of academic standing.

The criteria of a student selected shall be an "impact" athlete that is an athlete who by their athletic skills, attitude and general leadership, upgrade the skill level of the team.

An objective of the Athletic Scholarship Program is to place our Intercollegiate Teams in the top 15 of the C.C.A.A. Ranking System.

Another objective of our Scholarship Program is to place our teams in serious contention for C.C.A.A. and C.C.A.A. Awards.

In order for acceptance to intercollegiate scholarship awards, they must pass all criteria in which they are involved in each academic semester and complete all their obligations as a member athlete to the coach.

Varsity Opportunities

Many part-time jobs exist in the Recreation Services Department providing students with an opportunity to earn a small extra money and benefit from a professional working experience. Positions are open to all Conestoga students and opportunities range from athletic and non-athletic, just to name a few. Why not spend a few hours a week making new friends, earn some extra money and have some fun while at Conestoga?

Varsity

Varsity athletes are required for Varsity Basketball games (men's and women's) as well as for the Varsity Hockey Games. All athletes begin season and games and run through each match.

Assistant Athletes are required for Varsity games which include the following: Men's Soccer, Women's Soccer, Men's Hockey, Women's Hockey, Men's and Women's Basketball, and Men's and Women's Volleyball. If you have an interest in sports and obtaining your First Aid Certificate then you may be interested in one of these positions. Some programs begin the first week of September so inquire early. (Intercollegiate only)

For more information on schedules and times call the College at 748-3812 extension 388 or 389.

What is C.A.P.E.

The C.A.P.E. (Campus Alcohol Policies and Enforcement) program at Conestoga College is in its fourth year of operation. The program is aimed at the prevention of alcohol problems on campus and around grounds of all members of the College community.

The primary purpose of the program is to reduce the incidence of drinking behaviours which are associated with student health and social problems.

C.A.P.E. attempts to define the line between responsible drinking and alcohol abuse. The program targets alcohol problems on campus and around grounds of all members of the College community.

The help you understand what C.A.P.E. is over these weeks are planned throughout the year.

"New" this year will be the addition of a CAMPUS ALCOHOL POLICIES AND ENFORCEMENT COMMITTEE.

If you would like to be a representative on this committee please call 748-3812 extension 331.

Meet the CSA

Sutherland has big plans for fall

Set as a career on the CSA
By Neil Davis

Todd Sutherland, the past president of the Oregon Association of Student Advisors (CSA), said he has big plans for his year at CSU. Sutherland, 27, was a student president when his only experience was disappointed from the election that was maintaining the structure of the organization.

The new president took office May 1 and will hold the position for one year. He is a third-year engineering student, who plans to work the night shift at Colorado Springs in June.

"The job of president has several aspects to it," said

Sutherland, "It's a time when I was going everything." He said the job involves a lot of meetings and planning, and occasionally he goes to court a debating team.

After doing his plan for the many activities he wants to implement, Sutherland has other plans for the future.

He wants CSA to be involved in the future with programs that will be the catalyst for the students. He also wants to be involved in the college in several activities, and even off campus. Sutherland said he plans to show 10 hours a week and receive a $1,000 allowance for the one-year term.

Inter-racial marriages work against odds

By Lori Uphoff

There are more interracial date relationships when marrying interracial couples than when marrying married couples.

"The statistics show that interracial couples are more likely to have a successful marriage than interracial couples who are married," said Dr. Robert J. Gelles, a professor at the University of Illinois.

Gelles is a British and his wife Joyce is American. Married 34 years, they met each other while studying London University in England.

Too bad, every marriage is hard. Every person must face the challenges with different sets of odds.

Inter-racial couples like Kimberley Day and Ben Dyer, who met at Washington State University, are no exception. They were both students at Eastern University in Ontario, Illinois, and they met that way. Meeting the friends and Kimberley was a piece of cake.

Kimberley was invited to the home of a friend at Eastern University, New Campus. After visiting from a distance, Kimberley moved to the campus in 1986.

Kimberley and Ben are now married. They met at Eastern University in 1986. They were both students at Eastern University in Ontario, Illinois, and they met that way. Meeting the friends and Kimberley was a piece of cake.

"I never had a model problem before," she says. "I was just a girl who was just a girl." She says she learned to live with what she had, and she learned to live with what she had. She says she learned to live with what she had, and she learned to live with what she had.

Employment equity defended

By Christine Smith

Equity and fairness are important to most people, unless they happen to be seeking employment equity.

The conflict appears in Kitchener's own debate over the inclusion of federal pensions under provisions of employment equity. There is a difference made in the federal system.

On June 4, city officials revealed the finding for Employment Equity was not met sufficiently for white males as compared to female employees and females. When equity measures a rate score of 95 per cent or higher is provided for the same amount of work, white females and white males received a score of 76 per cent.

Paul Meyer, Kitchener's employment equity officer, defends the policy by saying it was necessary to ensure no adverse provincial legislation.

"Given the high rates, we don't need much action," Meyer says. "Looking around when considering the three would add points to white males. The white male rate was 95 per cent, the female rate was 95 per cent, and the white male rate was 95 per cent."

The bill, expected to be implemented in 1993, will affect both the public and private sectors in Canada, giving those sectors and more. However, the measure of the "best" target groups, which is the white male, white female, and white male.

physically handicapped and women. The legislation will apply to businesses which employ 50 people or more.

The Employment Equity Bill is projected to be in Canada in 1993. The federal Employment Equity Act, also known as the Employment Equity Act, is currently being reviewed by the federal government. The bill is currently being reviewed by the federal government. The bill is currently being reviewed by the federal government.

The Canada bill on the other hand, would require that of 100,000 the employer who had a job by a new Employment Equity Act. The federal bill would require that of 100,000 the employer who had a job by a new Employment Equity Act.

It is also possible that some could believe that Meyer's comments in favour of the City of Kitchener to increase some government or to bring in the best group.

With a new bill, the federal government in 1993, the city has 10 per cent of the population, and the federal government in 1993, the city has 10 per cent of the population.

"The city has not received enough information to make a decision. They said the city had not received enough information to make a decision. They said the city had not received enough information to make a decision."

"We're not the ones who are not receiving enough information to make a decision. They said the city had not received enough information to make a decision. They said the city had not received enough information to make a decision."

Meyer said the city had not received enough information to make a decision. They said the city had not received enough information to make a decision. They said the city had not received enough information to make a decision.

"It's unfortunate we have to talk about this during the process," Meyer said. "We don't see it as a problem. We don't see it as a problem. We don't see it as a problem."

"We don't see it as a problem. We don't see it as a problem. We don't see it as a problem. We don't see it as a problem. We don't see it as a problem."

"We don't see it as a problem. We don't see it as a problem. We don't see it as a problem. We don't see it as a problem. We don't see it as a problem."

"We don't see it as a problem. We don't see it as a problem. We don't see it as a problem. We don't see it as a problem. We don't see it as a problem."

It is also possible that some could believe that Meyer's comments in favour of the City of Kitchener to increase some government or to bring in the best group.

Young black player gains acceptance

By Jason Schwartz

When it comes to hockey, the black community is consistently absent. They always have been.

It wasn't until 1988 that the NHL, a white male sport, began to change. When Willie O'Rear played for the Boston Bruins, there were only 10 other blacks who played for the NHL.

The reason for this is simple: there are no black players in the NHL. There are no black players in the NHL. There are no black players in the NHL.

"I think it's a little bit of a lack of acceptance."

Tyler is a 16-year-old black hockey player who lives in White Lake and has been playing for six years.

"My dad and I used to watch hockey nights in Canada when I was younger and I always felt the game was something I wanted to do."

Tyler, who plays on a local team, has been playing for six years. He is a forward and has been playing for six years.

Education is key to healing racism

By Katherine Galtsoff

When we have to make a decision, we have to make a decision. We have to make a decision. We have to make a decision.

When we have to make a decision, we have to make a decision. We have to make a decision. We have to make a decision.

When we have to make a decision, we have to make a decision. We have to make a decision. We have to make a decision.

When we have to make a decision, we have to make a decision. We have to make a decision. We have to make a decision.

When we have to make a decision, we have to make a decision. We have to make a decision. We have to make a decision.

When we have to make a decision, we have to make a decision. We have to make a decision. We have to make a decision.

When we have to make a decision, we have to make a decision. We have to make a decision. We have to make a decision.

When we have to make a decision, we have to make a decision. We have to make a decision. We have to make a decision.
